Mr. Powers summarized the relevant portions of the articles and the bylaws in the draft policy and also discussed in the third section what the corporation's code says with respect to fiduciary duties of directors on nonprofit corporations. The bylaws have very specific provisions on what the procedures are for bringing on new designated agencies. It requires more than just a simple majority vote, it requires first, a 4/5ths vote (a super majority) and if achieved, then the proposed change would go to each of the respective boards, then being a majority vote (3 out of 5). Mr. Brady seeks Board direction regarding the draft policy. The Board continued discussion of action regarding new designating agencies recruiting and voting policy as part of discussion with the action item of direction to SAWA general counsel regarding updates to the SAWA Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws.

Mr. Brady suggested having the Administration Committee address the draft policy prior to the April Board Meeting. There was no further Board action at this time.

b. Kerwin Russell – RCRC

Mr. Russell that RCRC D are doing a lot of reporting right now. Mr. Russell added that RCRC D's problem is that there has not been a lot of rain and that their rangers reported measuring more snow than rain this year. There is going to be some delayed reporting because of late rain making it a longer reading season.

c. Dick Zembal – OCWD

Mr. Zembal reported completing a sediment demonstration project in the Prado Basin. OCWD were aiming for taking out 120,000 cubic yards of sediment and got around 80,000 before the latest thousand acre fire hit and melted a good deal of the 18 inch pipe that was carrying the slurry to the storage site. The project was a great success as they uncovered a lot of trash that made its way into Prado on high water, and they found a historic dumpsite for gigantic tires and pulled out a dozen and a half or so. The good news about the fire was that almost everything is crown sprouting and some of the willows are even flowering and leafing from branches that were slightly charred. The intensity of the fire was not anywhere near as great as the one that they had previously had a few years back. Other news, they wrapped up the feasibility study for ecosystem restoration in the basin with the corps.
